Making Chatter Matter by
Jennifer E Peters
(RM 39.90)

Jennifer Peters says in her forward: "My ambition for writing a book that addresses the many problems faced by parents, teachers, caregivers, health professionals and all those who work with language-impaired children was sown more than thirteen years ago, when, as a newly graduated speech-language pathologist, I was faced with the difficulties of working within a multilingual, multicultural environment for the very first time ... No doubt, there have been numerous books written on how language is acquired ... However, most of these books have not addressed the difficulties that must be faced in a multilingual environment like Malaysia ... As parents and teachers, you know the child best. This, then, has been my motivation in writing this book - to help you understand the 'Why?', 'What?' and 'Where do we go from here?' of not only what language acquisition entails but also the problems that may arise during this process, and how these difficulties can be dealt with."
